

NC | NEW CONTREE

 SCHOLARLY JOURNAL

Submit at newcontree.org.za

Scan QR code:

EDITOR-IN-CHIEF

Elize S. van Eeden

North-West University, South Africa

ABOUT THE JOURNAL

Established in 1977 under the name 'Contree' with a focus on urban and regional histories, the journal became 'New Contree' in 1994. Its focus and scope also extended to include specific and inclusive comparative local and regional history debate in social contexts in Africa – and the value of such debate in broader, transnational contexts. High-quality research articles on the history of regions and localities in Southern Africa, Africa and beyond, especially from a comparative angle will be considered. Read more on the website.

CELEBRATING 50 YEARS OF NEW CONTREE (1977–2027)

The New Contree Journal will celebrate 50 years of scholarly contribution (1977–2027) next year. To mark this significant milestone, we are planning an in-person conference in South Africa in November, three online webinars with a focus on postgraduate and emerging scholars, and special publications. Exciting prizes and other activities will also form part of the celebrations. Submit your article in good time to ensure consideration for publication in the 2027 issues.

JOIN US IN CELEBRATING
50 YEARS OF HISTORY,
SCHOLARSHIP, AND IMPACT.

PARTNER

REGIONAL HISTORY SOCIETY
OF SOUTHERN AFRICA

Published by AOSIS (Pty) Ltd
5 Hafele Street, Durbanville,
Cape Town, 7550, South Africa
aosis.co.za

2025
IMPACT FACTOR
0.30

MANUSCRIPT-RELATED QUERIES

submissions@newcontree.org.za
+27 21 975 2602

SUBMISSION GUIDELINES

Type of articles, article formats, blinding your manuscript, and submission checklist.

INDEXING SERVICES

All articles published in the journal are included in Web of Science – ESCI.

DHET ACCREDITATION

The journal is DHET accredited because it is listed on approved indexing services.

JOURNAL INFORMATION

e-ISSN: 2959-510X | ISSN: 0379-9867
Established: 2023
AOSIS scholarly domain: Humanities and Social Sciences

Stay up to date with our latest articles!
Add the RSS URL on our website to your RSS feed reader.

This brochure contains information accurate as of 18 August 2026.
For the latest updates, please visit the AOSIS journal website.